General Information

The School of Social Work offers a variety of courses designed to prepare students for careers in the field of social work. The curriculum is divided into two parts: the foundation curriculum and the concentration curriculum. Students must complete the foundation curriculum before entering the concentration curriculum. Each course is designed to provide students with a comprehensive understanding of social work theory, practice, and values. The foundation curriculum covers topics such as social policy, social welfare, and social service delivery systems, while the concentration curriculum focuses on advanced topics and specialized areas of practice.

Prerequisites and Corequisites

Prerequisites for many courses include completion of specific courses or a minimum GPA. Corequisites are courses that must be taken concurrently with other courses. Students must check the course catalog for specific prerequisites and corequisites for each course.

Grading

Grades of “P” and “PR” are used in the School of Social Work. A grade of “P” means the student has met all the requirements and has demonstrated competence in the course material. A grade of “PR” means the student has not completed the course requirements but has demonstrated satisfactory progress and has the opportunity to complete the course requirements.

Students who wish to receive a grade of “P” or “PR” must complete all course requirements, including assignments, exams, and other assessments. Students who do not meet the requirements for a grade of “P” or “PR” may be required to retake the course.

Student Affairs

Cooperative Education

Cooperative Education blends the traditional academic functions of the university with paid work assignments in industry, business, government, and nonprofit organiizations. This combination enhances the student’s academic knowledge, personal development and preparation for a professional career.

In order to participate in the Cooperative Education Program, students must meet the following requirements:

1. Be enrolled at VCU as a degree-seeking student. Undergraduates must have completed at least 23 semester credits.

2. Maintain a 2.5 GPA on a four-point scale for sophomores, a 2.0 GPA on a four-point scale for juniors and seniors. All certificate and graduate students must maintain the GPA required by their academic programs.

3. Maintain good financial standing with the university.
